Good Backups Support a Well-Functioning Team

“We’re responsible for supporting all business related technology platforms and services. Our activities also entail securing our business platforms such as Office 365 online, and also Salesforce.com data. Its crucial to us to be able to restore from any point in time, so that data can be recovered if lost, accidentally deleted, and or purged. Such situation have not occurred, but having cloud to cloud backup in place for such imperative business and services is simply smart information technology data management”, Sean Bates – ICT Manager
